

When change is constant.

A focus at the AMCR.

There's one sure bet at the Akwesasne Mohawk Casino Resort, and that is that you will have a good time.

As one of the largest employers not just on the reservation, but in the North Country region, the Casino takes its responsibility as a regional economic driver seriously. This people-centered enterprise intends to sustain growth for decades to come through continuous upgrades and improvement. With that in mind, they were looking for ways to ensure that these constant changes and developing projects were not disruptions, but were part of the fabric of the work environment. They chose project management training for their managers and leaders. Read about it at citec.org.
